TRAFFIC SIGNS

Your Choice for Reflectivity:

Engineer Grade Prismatic Reflective (Type I) is 100x brighter than non-reflective signs, which makes it ideal for parking lots and driveways, and can be seen at 500 ft. away.

High Intensity Prismatic Reflective (Type III) is 3x brighter, and can be seen from 1,000 ft. away in the dark. It is the recommended choice for street signs, roadway and traffic signs, work zones, and parking lots.
